What Do You Do After You Have Joined An Affiliate Online Program?

Do you suffer from a common affiliate marketing ailment known as "signupitis"? It is a terrible virus that destroys the victim's ability to focus and causes sensations of confusion and lethargy. In short, it is an affiliate marketing killer disease. Internet marketers who sign up to one affiliate online program after another seldom follow through on any of them. In order to make money with Internet affiliate marketing you need to focus your efforts on one thing at a time.

So, what should you do after you have joined an affiliate online program?
