Squeeze Page Tactics To Use With Traffic Exchange Marketing

A problem many Internet marketers face is getting a large amount of traffic to their websites so that they can generate enough sales to earn a good living online.

To combat this problem, many Internet marketers start using traffic exchanges. Many traffic exchanges let you post web pages that you want to promote, and you can either buy or earn credits that will be used to promote those pages. You can choose how many credits go to each page, and the pages will then be shown to other members of the traffic exchange.

Traffic exchanges will drive more traffic to your website, but you're not going to get a good conversion rate simply because people are typically viewing your webpage as a way for them to earn a credit for their own webpage promotion.
